About This Game

Irrational Exuberance is an experiment to probe the possibilities of full room-scale VR and the HTC Vive, unfolding organically as you discover and engage with deep space phenomena. Prologue is the first taste of the galactic fantasy, delivering you to a lonely asteroid in deep space, underneath comets and giant stars. Irrational Exuberance has been an audience favorite at Sundance and the Kaleidoscope tour and praised as a defining VR experience by the media for its use of space, sense and setting.

The full release, scheduled for late-2016, will feature dramatic interactions, deeply-immersive moments, and impossible vistas.

Featuring:

- UNCOMPROMISING DESIGN: Exclusively designed for room-scale VR interaction, Irrational Exuberance is a non-violent, organic experience that offers cinematic moments of space, solace and spectacle.
- AMPLIFIED SENSES: A highly tuned, evocative spatial audioscape takes audiences to the surreal depths of space, from crumbling meteorites to chiming ephemera to the distant hum of stars.
- HYPER PRESENT REALITY: Beautiful worlds, mysterious sensations, and nuanced interaction weave together to create a heightened sense and awareness of this alternate reality.
- COMPREHENSIVE PREVIEW: A short, but impactful experience that foretells the events of the full Irrational

irrational exuberance prologue

It was pretty enthralling being at the precipice of a rock in the midst of outer space. I wasn't encountering any issues breaking apart the small asteroid, but about 30 seconds to a minute into the experience it began to stutter between my VR console and the experience. Pretty unsettling. Also when there was a transition this same stuttering would occur. Looking forward to when this will be fixed.. OK, now that I changed some SteamVR settings, this runs beautifully. I LOVE the concept and as a prologue of a future full game\experience this really shows off how awesome VR can be!. This is the defacto demo for showing people VR for the first time.. Terrible performance.. steamvr is constantly giving the red watching to say the application is unresponsive.
